WLA 2025 Spring Fundraiser

Online Silent Auction | May 6-31

We are excited to announce the WLA Silent Auction, our 2025 Spring Fundraiser event, is NOW OPEN! View the items that are available here. Keep an eye on our auction website as more items will be added on an as-donated basis.

All members and partners are welcome to solicit or make donations! Items that can be sent digitally or are easily mailed are preferable, but we also welcome highly desirable items that are "worth the trip," like the card catalog donated this year by Primary Source. Restaurant, lodging, bookstore, and other retail gift certificates are always popular, and businesses are often delighted to show this support for WA libraries. You may view item ideas in our document here! 100 percent of auction proceeds will help fund WLA's programs and services, and as a 501(c)3 non-profit, all donations are tax deductible!

If you, your library, or anyone in your network have unique items or experiences to donate, please fill out our donation form. Thank you for your support in making this annual event a success!

Alki* Call for Papers: Summer Issue - *Building Bridges

Did you participate in the WLA Conference, Building Bridges & Connecting Communities? The summer issue of Alki will focus on work and ideas that come out of the annual conference. If you presented, moderated, held a workshop, did a pop-up or exhibit, or anything else related to the conference, this is an opportunity to give a more permanent form to your work by having it published. Maybe you didn't present, but you attended? We also hope the conference itself inspired commentary or maybe an unexpected article.

Possible topics might include:

- Reflections on a conference workshop or program
- A field note about a book award—the process, the candidates, and the winners
- An article encapsulating a presentation
- Art submissions of your exhibit or table with a brief description
- Milestones—program launches, space updates, award winners
- A field note reflecting on your conference experience

Sign up for your spot today or get help working through a potential article concept by emailing your name and the topic of your proposed piece to Editor-in-Chief, Traci Timmons, at alkieditor@wla.org. General submission guidelines can be found here. The deadline for completed work is June 7.

For inspiration, check out past issues of Alki, especially the summer issues devoted to the conference.

Share Your Story Today!

The National Museum & Library Services Board is pushing back against Executive Order 14238, warning that it endangers vital programs supporting libraries and museums nationwide. Read the letter here.

Share your story on how your library, community, school, or other organization has been impacted by IMLS (Institute of Museum and Library Services) and/or State Library funding. These testimonials will be used to raise awareness of the work being done by these vital institutions through social media, campaigns, and more. Thank you for sharing your story with us and our community.

CALMA Round Table : Preserving the past and sustaining the future amid environmental change: Cross-cutting approaches in cultural heritage

Thursday, May 22 | 1:00-2:30pm PDT

The Center for Advances in Libraries, Museums, and Archives \(CALMA\) at the UW iSchool is sponsoring a roundtable discussion on climate change and GLAM institutions.

How are museums, archives, and libraries adapting to environmental change while continuing to safeguard cultural memory? This session brings together consultants working across the GLAM sector to share practical strategies, lessons learned, and emerging best practices for sustainability and climate resilience. A moderated discussion will explore areas of convergence and divergence, challenges, innovations, and cross-sector collaboration, with a focus on bridging the gap between research and day-to-day practice. The session will conclude with audience Q&A, offering an opportunity to engage directly with experts working at the intersection of preservation and environmental responsibility.

Panelists include Rebekka Smith Aldrich (Sustainable Libraries Initiative & Mid-Hudson Library System), Stephanie Shapiro (Environment and Culture Partners), Eira Tansey (Memory Rising), and Meena Selvakumar (UW iSchool).

Survey: Instructional Programming for Adults in Public Libraries

Laura Saunders, Professor at the Simmons University School of Library and Information Science and Don Simmons Jr, Associate Professor at Simmons University School of Library and Information Science invite you to take a survey that they are conducting on instructional programming for adults in public libraries.

They are interested in learning about the extent and types of instructional programs offered to adults through public libraries in the United States, as well as the factors that might enable or hinder such programming. The study received approval from the Simmons University Institutional Review Board (IRB 25-233).

Please answer as many of the following questions as you wish based on your own experience. Your participation is voluntary. You may decline to participate or discontinue your participation at any time. If there are any questions you do not feel comfortable answering, you may skip them. Your decision to participate, not participate, or to withdraw at any time from this study will in no way affect your standing with your library.

The survey should take you about 20 minutes to complete. All of your responses will be recorded anonymously. You can access the survey using this link (https://simmons.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_5vwIP4AVjd3C2we)

If you have questions about the research, please contact Laura Saunders at laura.saunders@simmons.edu and/or Don Simmons at don.simmons@simmons.edu.

ALA: Support IMLS by Sharing Your Library Story with Congress

Since ALA announced the Show Up For Our Libraries campaign after the Inauguration, we've seen a barrage of attacks on a wide array of federal agencies, programs, and policies. Unfortunately, in the year ahead, we expect continued efforts to slash the federal budget. ALA, like many of you, is concerned about the broad-reaching effects of these efforts and other newly implemented policies and decisions.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services is the only source of federal funding dedicated to libraries. Every member of Congress needs to know why libraries are not just a "nice to have," but a necessity. Tell Congress your library story: bit.ly/4iqzFqk

- Copenhagen Burnout Inventory
- Best Possible Future Exercise

Gain valuable perspectives from library professionals, social workers, and researchers to help you navigate burnout and reclaim your passion for library service.

Authors Against Book Bans is Here for Washington

A new state law prohibits schools from banning books used in curriculums solely because they were written by or about members of marginalized groups. Even so, book challenges continue to be a reality and dealing with one can be stressful. Authors Against Book Bans (AABB) in Washington State is dedicated to protecting the intellectual freedom to read and the availability of diverse voices on library shelves.

Comprised of a coalition of writers, illustrators, anthology editors and contributors, AABB offers support to librarians, teachers, and others involved in book challenges. Some of the ways members can help include:

- Writing emails and letters, sending recorded videos, and/or making phone calls to curriculum committees, school boards, and other decision-makers
- Sharing personal experiences demonstrating the importance of diverse books
- Appearing before public meetings in support of diverse books

- Sending personal messages of support (e.g., email or postcards) to individuals embroiled in challenges

For support or more information find AABB at authorsagainstbookbans.com.

Save the Date: America's 250th Anniversary in 2026

July 4, 2026

Plans are already underway for the commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. Washington State has established an official state committee to plan events and activities, and recently launched the official America250 WA website.

Libraries are encouraged to partner with America250 WA to help educate and promote semiquincentennial activities. Join the list of partners to help promote activities in your community at this link.

Lorraine Ralston, the state America 250 coordinator, will be working with partners to help ensure this commemoration is a statewide observance. Please feel free to contact her with questions at info@america250wa.org.

For more information about Washington State plans, visit America250WA.org.

National Association for Media and Literacy Education Conference

Year after year, NAMLE's annual conference serves as a beacon of knowledge and inspiration, bringing together professionals from diverse disciplines and grade levels to explore the latest resources, technologies, teaching practices, and core concepts in media literacy education. By attending the conference, you'll have access to cutting-edge research, innovative practices, and practical strategies that you can bring into your work to align with the new standards in your region.

We are especially excited to share a closer look at our first programming announcement—our Friday keynotes—two powerful sessions that dive into the role of media literacy and AI in shaping more equitable, creative futures:

- From One Minute to Lasting Impact: Reimagining Media Literacy for the AI Generation
- Connecting Students to 21st Century Tech Skills: AI Literacy & the Digital Divide

For more information on the other great conference sessions, please view the schedule here!

Library Trends Call for Papers

Library Trends is pleased to announce a Call for Papers for an issue of Library Trends that will explore innovative Readers' Advisory concepts and approaches that reflect critically on the ways in which we serve leisure readers across a wide landscape.

The journal welcomes articles that address both longer theoretical discussions and present shorter, practical applications of service to leisure readers. Perspectives from publisher, independent bookstore owners and/or authors about how they promote books to readers will also be considered.

The complete Call for Papers, including a timeline for publication, is available on the Library Trends website. Prospective authors are invited to submit an abstract outlining their proposed article by Aug. 1.

Have news to share? Please send information to the WLA office at newsletter@wla.org by Monday to be included in that week's digest. Please include any relevant graphics, as well as the blurb you would like posted in our newsletter.
Inquiries about the planned issue and ideas for articles should be directed to Guest Editors Robin Bradford (robin.bradford@gmail.com) and Becky Spratford (bspratford@hotmail.com).
